Textbook(s) and/or other materials: Handouts by the instructor (No text is required). D2L will be the primary means of distributing class material.

Course objectives:

1. Understand course options available in the INE/SYE/EMG programs
2. Gain exposure to diverse techniques, methods, and applications of SYE, INE, and EMG
3. Build professional networks, write resumes, and successfully interview for future career opportunities, including internships, study abroad, etc.
4. Introduce students to a formal framework for professional engineering ethics

Learning Outcomes:

1. Students have professional resume that they can use at career fairs and to apply for summer internships
2. Students will have identified candidate technical electives
3. Students will have an improved understanding of engineering ethics

Work Required:

1. Engagement: Engagement for this course in highly emphasized. Attendance will be used to establish your score for engagement. You will be allowed to drop one Engagement score (e.g., “one missed class”). If you register after the first class, your engagement score will count the missed class as your dropped score. Please be on time to class. We will have speakers from industry and we need to show them respect. We will excuse all religious holidays, observances, and practices. Please notify the instructor. Any pre-approved absence by the UA Dean of Students (or Dean Designee) will be honored. If you are experiencing unexpected barriers to your success in your courses, the Dean of Students Office is a central support resource for all students and may be helpful. The Dean of Students Office is in the Robert L. Nugent Building, room 100, or call 520-621-7057. See the Classroom Attendance Policy below.

2. Reflection: For each class, a student reflection report is required. Each reflection should provide 1) an overview about the speaker, 2) the topic, 3) the key points covered, 4) identify any specific information that you found relevant to your career decisions, and 5) other observations of interest. Each reflection will be approximately 1 page in length and submitted to the course D2L site before the start of class the following week. [This rule is strictly enforced]. Reflections will be graded on a 0-10 point scale so partial credit can be awarded if you don't meet the requirements. Yes, you must submit a speaker report for the first class – August 24, 2023, before start of class at 11 AM on August 31, 2023. You will be allowed to drop your lowest score for one item during the semester. If you register for the course after the first class, the missed class will be counted as the allowed dropped lowest score. Important: If you don't attend a class, you cannot submit a reflection.
3. Resume:
 - a. Students must develop a professional resume that can be used to search for a summer internship or professional position. A draft resume is due by 5:00 PM September 7, 2023. Feedback will be provided as needed to develop the final resume. Final Resumes are due before class starts on September 21, 2023, but you can update your resume anytime during the semester after the due date. It is possible that an employer will ask for copies of student resumes and I would like to have your best effort resume available in D2L. I won't distribute your resume without your permission. Please be aware that Career Services will hold an in-person Career Fair September 13, 14, and 19 (STEM Day is September 19, 2023), and a virtual Career Fair September 28 using Handshake. This is a great chance to meet some prospective employers (for internships as well as later). Submit your draft and final resume to the D2L assignments.
 - b. Create a LinkedIn.com profile including a professional appearing photo (this does not mean that you have to hire a professional photographer, but don't take a picture from a party where you might be embarrassed in the future), your Experience (if any), education (in progress), and send a request to connect to me (www.linkedin.com/in/larry-head) and create a badge and submit it to the assignment comment box (see footnote below). If you already have a LinkedIn profile, send me a connection request. If we are already connected, message me with a note that you are in class. I will not accept incomplete profiles (e.g. you must have a picture and relevant information) and will give you a grade when your request is accepted. LinkedIn profiles* are due by September 28, 2023. Ideally, you will create this when you are creating your resume so you can include a link to your profile on your resume.
4. Career Fair Assignment: Students are required to participate in Career Fair on September 19, 2023 and introduce themselves to a minimum of two companies. The Career Fair is in-person this year: <https://career.arizona.edu/events/2023/09/19/2023-fall-career-days-stem-day-in-person/>. Prepare a report that summarizes the experience including: 1) identification of who you met (name, role); 2) summary of company; 3) identification of any summer internship programs available; and 4) any planned or expected follow-up. Career Fair reports are due on September 28, 2023.

* Submit your LinkedIn Badge to D2L in the Comments dialog box (after creating your profile, follow the Me link and "Edit public profile and URL", then use the "Create a public profile badge" to create a badge).

5. Plan of Study: A plan of study that details the courses that you will take and the semester you will take them is required by October 19, 2023 (before pre-registration starts for spring). This plan should include candidate technical electives – specific courses must be listed. You must check the prerequisites required and the semester the courses are offered. Your plan can be revised in future semesters but is intended to be a good initial start. Templates for Engineering Management, Systems Engineering and for Industrial Engineering will be made available on D2L.
6. Engineering Ethics. One class will be devoted to a discussion of Engineering Ethics. Before this class, there will be a pre-assessment quiz before the class meets that you must complete. Similarly, there will be a post-assessment quiz that you must complete. You must complete both quizzes to get credit for this assignment.
7. Final Report: A final report is required by Thursday December 7, 2023 (5 PM MST). The final report must include: 1) summary statement of your career plan (at this point in time), 2) your planned technical electives, 3) summer internship strategy, and 4) a summary of the speakers/topics that you found useful during the semester. You are to submit one single file to D2L. Final reports are graded on a 100-point scale and partial credit can be given for reports that don't address the learning objectives of the course.

Students are asked to refrain from disruptive conversations with people sitting around them during class. Students observed engaging in disruptive activity will be asked to cease this behavior. Those who continue to disrupt the class will be asked to leave lecture or discussion and may be reported to the Dean of Students.
